Aguinaldo Narrowly Escapes Capture Again.

His Right Hand Man Is Now a Prisoner in the Hands of American Troops Advancing.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The adjutant general has received the following cablegram from General Otis:

"Manila, Nov. 25.—Vessel from Lingayen Gulf with dispatches from Wheaton to 23d instant brought in Buencamino, insurgent Secretary of State, captured 21st instant. He was with Aguinaldo and party which left Tarlac on the night of the 13th to be escorted north by two thousand troops from Bantambong and Dagupan. These troops Wheaton struck at San Jacinto and Young Eastward. Aguinaldo, with part of family, escaped north with 200 men, passing between Young and Wheaton. Young still in pursuit at last accounts and has been rationed at San Fernando. Aguinaldo's mother and oldest child, with Buencamino, separated from rest of the party; mother lost in woods and child, four years old, with Wheaton's troops. Two thousand dollars in gold, belonging to mother, captured and now in Manila treasury. Heavy storm in Lingayen has prevented loading of troops for the north. MacArthur has captured insurgent director of railroads, who endeavored to destroy railroad to Dagupan; also Captain Lawrence, Englishman, who served in Aguinaldo's artillery. Telegraph not working north of Tarlac today.

"Lawton believed to be on military road to Bantambong. Roads now practicable for wagons and supplies for him being forwarded.

"Our troops have liberated 300 Spanish prisoners recently."

Revolutionary Leader Caught.

Manila, Nov. 25, 1:25 p. m.—Buencamino, the brains of the Filipino insurrection is locked up here in charge of Brigadier General Edward B. Williston, the provost marshal. When Tarlac fell Buencamino fled northward with Aguinaldo's three-year-old son and an old lady, supposed to be the mother of Aguinaldo's confidential servant, Tomas Maxarine, and a guard of a hundred soldiers. Reaching the neighborhood of the coast November 13, Buencamino found American soldiers on every side and escape impossible.

Home for Dewey's Son.

Washington, Nov. 21.—George Goodwin Dewey, Admiral Dewey's only son, is now the owner of the residence presented to the admiral by the American people. Papers were prepared and signed early today by which Mrs. Mildred McLean Dewey transferred all rights and title to the property known as 1747 Rhode Island avenue, this city, to George Goodwin Dewey. This is the property which yesterday Admiral Dewey transferred to Mrs. Dewey. The papers making the new transfer probably will be placed on file tomorrow morning.

THE KHALIFA IS DEAD.

London, Nov. 25.—The news of the death of the Khalifa and the final defeat of the Dervishes has been received here with great joy as a welcome set-off to the serious situation in South Africa.

Hartwell and the Cable.

Washington, Nov. 20.—A. S. Hartwell of Honolulu arrived here today. He expects to remain in Washington during the next session of Congress and work for legislation beneficial to the Hawaiian Islands. Incidentally, also, he will do what he can to induce Congress to provide for the building of the Pacific cable.

A Japanese woman, wife of one of the laborers on Oahu plantation, died on the morning train while on the way to Honolulu this morning. Eleven days ago she gave birth to a child, which died. From that time on she was very ill and yesterday Manager Ahrens advised her to come to town. She took the morning train and died on the way up.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT IS DEAD

Garret A. Hobart Succumbs to Attack of Heart Failure.

A Nation Mourns Its Loss—Senator Wm. P. Frye Will Fill the Vacancy—Death Not Unexpected.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 21.—Vice President Hobart died at 8:30 a. m.

The Vice President had been feeling since late yesterday afternoon, although the reports given out at the house were that he was holding his own. Soon after midnight he became unconscious, and at 7 o'clock this morning he had an attack of angina pectoris, from which he never rallied. Mrs. Hobart, Garret A. Hobart, Jr., Dr. Newton, Mrs. Newton, who is a cousin of Mrs. Hobart, and Miss Alice Waddell, the nurse, were at the patient's bedside constantly from the time he became unconscious.

Before Mr. Hobart became unconscious he was able to converse with Mrs. Hobart about some private affairs. He was very patient and showed his remarkable will power to the last.

At 7:30 this morning the Vice President's private secretary, Mr. Evans, called up the White House by telephone and notified President McKinley that Mr. Hobart was dying. 9 o'clock Mr. Evans communicated again with the President, notifying him of the Vice President's death.

President McKinley sent word that he would endeavor to have a talk with Mrs. Hobart over the telephone this afternoon. During the forenoon many of the Vice President's intimate friends and neighbors called at Carroll Hall and left their cards.

Soon after the news of Mr. Hobart's death was announced, telegrams of condolence began to arrive at Carroll Hall. Among the first to send words of sympathy and condolences to Mrs. Hobart were President McKinley and Mrs. McKinley. Mrs. Hobart bears up well under her great bereavement.

Garret Augustus Hobart was born in Monmouth County, N. J., June 3, 1844; graduated from Rutgers College, 1863; taught school; studied law; admitted to bar, 1869; established practice at Paterson, N. J.; City Counsel there, 1871; counsel for Board of Chosen Freeholders, 1873; member of Legislature, 1874-78 (Speaker, 1876); State Senator, 1879-85; President New Jersey Senate, 1881; long prominent in Republican politics; chairman State Central Committee until elected Vice President for term 1897-1901.

MR. HOBART'S SUCCESSOR.

Washington, Nov. 21.—By the death of Mr. Hobart the office of Vice President becomes vacant for the rest of President McKinley's term, as the law provides no successor. A president pro tem of the Senate will be selected by that body when Congress assembles, who will hold office until March, 1901. By the law the succession to the Presidency of the United States, in the event of vacancy, falls upon the Vice President, and, in the event of the latter's death, to the Secretary of State, the next in line being the Secretary of the Treasury, then the Secretary of War and down through the list of Cabinet officers in order of precedence fixed by act of Congress when the death of Vice President Hendricks disclosed the necessity of such a provision. Senator William P. Frye of Maine is now president pro tem of the Senate. He will call that body to order when it assembles on Dec. 4, and preside until a successor is chosen. That he will succeed himself is generally conceded.

SAMOANS FIGHTING AGAIN.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Official advices from Samoa just received here state that another dangerous crisis with the natives recently occurred and that preparations were made to land British bluejackets. Some of the thirteen native chiefs, with their Matafua followers, assembled at Vainos, not far from Apia, and began a disorderly agitation. The place is the home of Tamasese, one of the former aspirants for the throne, who used his influence to keep down the disorder. Several hundred natives were engaged, and there was considerable fighting, but it did not go beyond noise and a number of broken heads. The natives were finally pacified, but it has served to direct the attention of the officials in Samoa to the rather delicate and dangerous status of affairs.

Police Court Notes.

In the Police Court this forenoon Wing Wo Tai was fined $50 and costs on the charge of keeping more than ten cases of kerosene on his premises, to wit, thirty cases. Wing Wo Tai fought his case, but his guilt was proved beyond doubt. Eleven gamblers were fined $10 and costs each on the charge of gambling.

British Army Succeed at Belmont

Boers Now Trying to Cut Off Relief Column.

No News From Ladysmith—Surrounding Pietermaritzburg—British Losses in Last Battle Were Heavy.

London, Nov. 24.—Stirring and important news comes this morning from the western frontier. Along with the announcement that a strong position of the Boers has been carried at the point of the bayonet, comes the suggestive news of burghers leaving Natal for the capital of the Free State, a pretty clear indication that they foresee a certain plan of campaign.

Orange River, Cape Colony, Friday, Nov. 24, 6:30 p. m.—In all 107 wounded including several Boers have arrived here from Belmont. One of the Boers, a boy of 17 years of age, was compelled to take up twenty men with his father, who is a prisoner. A wounded Boer said that twenty men were selected from each Boer section to pick off the British officers. But, he added, on the advance of the British forces, the marksmen were bewildered and it was impossible to distinguish the officers, who wore the same equipment as the men. The marksmen were also unable to make out the sergeants and other non-commissioned officers, whose stripes had been removed.

BOERS ABOUT NATAL.

Mool River, Natal, Friday, Nov. 24.—A reconnaissance in force in the direction of Highlands station has discovered a big force of Boers with guns. The Boers shelled and the British guns replied. The scouts also reported another strong Boer force to the northwest of the camp.

The British guns have returned to camp and the infantry has fallen back. The mounted infantry is still out.

London, Nov. 23.—The fact that fresh portions of Natal are being overrun daily by the Boers is producing exasperation in that colony, and intense humiliation in Great Britain, where the idea of a possible extensive violation of British soil was contemptuously dismissed in the early stages of the war.

Operators on the stock exchange here are becoming nervous and the continued fall in consols exemplifies the restlessness of the market. The rumors that a peace deputation from President Kruger is on its way to Cape Town for the purpose of ascertaining the terms upon which an immediate cessation of hostilities could be secured are discredited here, and it is said that if such a deputation has been sent it will meet with scant courtesy, as those who are conducting the war will be satisfied with nothing less than dictating terms of peace at Pretoria after a parade of the British strength throughout the Transvaal.

Meanwhile, from the scanty and emasculated dispatches which are dribbling in from the front, it is difficult to form an opinion of the true situation. The Boer invaders are occasioning constant surprises. They have already cut out two portions of the Ladysmith relieving force from their base of supplies, and with great rapidity are advancing on Pietermaritzburg with howitzers and other artillery. General Clery's situation, it would appear, was becoming intolerable. Some serious fighting may be expected at any time, as it is pointed out, the General must clear his line of communications in order to complete the concentration of the relieving force.

According to the latest reports from Natal, the artillery duel was recommenced this morning at Mool river. The statement that the British garrison there is only acting on the defensive appears to be an admission of weakness, and it is thought the troops may be at the mercy of the strong Boer forces reported in that neighborhood.

A collision may also be expected on the western frontier within forty-eight hours, if it is true that General Methuen has started northward, as he is certain to meet entrenched Boers at Belmont and Modder river.

It is reported that Mafeking is suffering from lack of water, and that fever is rife there. Advices from Lorenzo Marques say Transvaal recruiting agents have been visiting arriving steamers, and have succeeded in enlisting three passengers from the German steamer Kaiser. A force of Portuguese police has gone to Gazealand, where the natives are acting in a threatening manner, the stores at Koomatpoort having been looted.

The British transports Pavonia and Cephalonia arrived at Durban today with about 3000 troops, making the total arrival of the first division 11,600 men. Another 4000 men are expected in a few days.

MORE TROOPS CALLED OUT.
London, Nov. 23.—The Daily Mail says this morning: "We are able to confirm the report that orders have been issued to mobilize a sixth division at Aldershot for service in South Africa or wherever it may be wanted."

BOERS NEAR PIETERMARITZBURG.
London, Nov. 23.—The Daily Chronicle publishes the following from Durban, dated Wednesday: "The Boers are reported to be 7,000 strong within twenty-five miles of Howick Falls, near Pietermaritzburg. The inhabitants are fleeing from Howick to Pietermaritzburg. The Boers have also reached Dargle, another position forty miles from Pietermaritzburg."

The Daily News has the following from Pietermaritzburg, under Wednesday's date: "Your correspondent managed to escape from the Mool river district yesterday before the arrival of 6,000 Boers, who are looting farmsteads in all directions. Natal Boers, encouraged by the success of the Transvaalers, join in the looting. The main body of the Boers made a rapid march from Ulundi, southwest of Estcourt, to a point near Fort Nottingham, south of the railway, in a single day. They are within forty miles of Pietermaritzburg at the farthest, and it is said that they intend to attack the town."

The Daily Telegraph publishes the following from Pietermaritzburg, dated Tuesday: "Communication with Eastcourt is interrupted. The mail train tonight runs only as far as Mool river. Government officials have received intelligence from the magistrate at Inappendle that a small commando of Boers, believed to be an aiding party, is reported to have arrived in the district thirty miles west of Pietermaritzburg. I am officially informed that no anxiety prevails with reference to the safety of Pietermaritzburg, as by tomorrow the strength of the garrison will have been increased to 1,000 men with six guns."

British Bravery Magnificent.

New York, Nov. 25.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says:

The local papers publish further details of the battle of Belmont. They show that the behavior of the British infantry in charging strong positions held by the Boers was magnificent. In the face of a tremendous fire, the British guards three times drove the Free Staters in flight from their kopjes. The war correspondent of the Chronicle, however, says that the Boer marksmanship was wretched, otherwise not a single guardsman out of the two battalions of Cold Streams who carried the position at the point of the bayonet, could have lived to reach the summit of the ridge.

The censorship has let in a fresh series of Kaffir rumors respecting a great victory by the Ladysmith garrison on Sunday, but it has kept out definite information relating to the anomalous military situation in Lower Natal. The rumors of victory come from many sources, but are untrustworthy and are discredited.

Lieut. McKinley.

Lieutenant James F. McKinley, Sixth United States Cavalry, a nephew of President McKinley, arrived in the transport Ohio this morning, on the way to Manila where he is to join General Young's brigade. Lieut. McKinley is a native of California, born in San Francisco twenty-one years ago. When ten years of age his parents died and he went to live with his grandparents at Canton, O. On the breaking out of the Spanish war he enlisted in the regular army as a private and as such served through the Cuban campaign.

Chinese to Be Excluded.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese Minister, has again entered a protest because of the action of General Otis in too strictly excluding Chinese from the Philippine archipelago.

Instruction has been sent to General Otis to carry out the provisions of the Chinese exclusion law as applied to this country. The effect of this will be that General Otis will modify his regulations so as to permit the entrance of merchants and others belonging to the unrestricted class of Chinese who are allowed to enter the United States.

Reported Scarlet Fever.

A report came from Hecla this morning that a Japanese physician had discovered a case of scarlet fever among the Japanese laborers on the plantation. Dr. Howard, City Physician, was despatched to the plantation to make an investigation.

ICE ON A LARGE SCALE

Another Company Is To Be Organized At Once.

Cold Storage Plant To Be Erected—Electric Light Business May Be An Adjunct—On Increasing Demand.

The Honolulu public and residents of the other islands generally will be glad to know that there is a prospect of the formation of another ice company in this city in the near future. In fact it is more than a prospect, as the Bulletin learns on good authority that an preliminary organization of the company is already proceeding. From a gentleman who is one of the interested parties, the following was learned this morning:

"A company is to be organized at once to engage in the manufacture of ice on a large scale and to erect a cold storage plant of abundant capacity to supply the rapidly growing needs of this city in that respect. It is proposed to furnish the community with cheap ice and cheap cold storage facilities. The plant to be erected will be so large that the company will be in a position to branch out into the electric light business, besides furnishing electricity as a motive power at any time. It is the avowed intention of the organizers of the new company to take up that branch of the business as soon as the existing monopoly of the Hawaiian Electric Company expires, which will be in 1903.

"It must be patent to every one," proceeded the Bulletin's informant, "that the present facilities of the Electric Light Company are inadequate for supplying the increasing demand for ice, even with the high prices charged. In these latter days of the nineteenth century, ice is no longer regarded as a luxury to be purchased and used only by the wealthy, but as a necessity, and as such it should be sold at a price to bring it within the reach of every family in the city. I may say right here that the new company proposes to cater expressly to the family trade. Whatever happens that will receive the consideration due it. The parties who are interested with me in this project believe that the time has come in the history of this city when its residents are entitled to cheap ice and that there is now abundant room for another factory here. We also believe that there is money to be made out of a cold storage plant, when it is well managed and made popular with the general public.

"As to the parties who are associated with me in this matter, I can only tell you that some of them are men of large experience in the business, who know what they are doing and are putting their own money into the company to show their faith in it. In addition to these practical men there are some of the leading capitalists of the city interested. The corporation now being formed will have a capitalization and financial backing equal to any similar one in the city."

D. G. Sylvester Here.

D. G. Sylvester, a Honolulu boy well known among the bicycle racing fraternity here, is one of the recruits of the Fourth Cavalry aboard the St. Paul in charge of Lieut. Howard. Young Sylvester left Honolulu about eighteen months ago with the intention of racing in San Francisco and along the Coast. From this line of work he took up odd jobs and on November 13 of the present year, joined the Fourth Cavalry for service in Manila. Sylvester says that he is very well pleased with the treatment he has so far received and, although he has a great aloha for Hawaii, he would not stop off here if he had the chance. He has been spending his time in Honolulu visiting with his old friends.

Tidal Wave at Waialua.

There was a tidal wave at Waialua on Sunday last which did considerable damage. The water began to rise at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and by night it was very high. The water swept into the fish ponds at Ukoa, across the bridge from the Waialua hotel and cleaned out the fish so that many natives of the district went out and gathered up the fish that lay stranded on all sides. This was one of the places where the "ill wind" story, told of old, was practically demonstrated. This water from the river in front of the Waialua hotel that flows into the sea near the hotel, rose to such an extent that the top part of the stone wall makai of the billiard room, was quite severely damaged. The water subsided during Monday night. The natives of the district were very much exercised. Some said the rise of the water was caused by the high surf but others contend that it was a genuine tidal wave.

Ten hackmen of the Hawaiian hotel Stables gave the proprietor of that place notice day before yesterday and then left, taking their carriages with them. They immediately had a small telephone office built just Ewa of their old stand where they are now holding out. These ten men comprise the majority of the hackmen from the Hawaiian Hotel Stables.
